Eisenhower Suffers Cerebral Attack

'PANIC SELLING' AT NEW YORK

Heavy selling with prices dropping on the Wall Street markets was reported late this afternoon, following the announcement on President Eisenhower's health.

SIX BODIES BENEATH THIS RUBBLE

For the fourth straight day volunteers are digging through this mud and rubble in an effort to recover six, possibly seven bodies. Victims were swept to their death when the top of a mountain on the outskirts of Prince Rupert crashed three homes into a creek. Pathetic, mute evidence of the tragedy has been found in the form of half-finished meals and family photographs as the volunteers dug, at times waist deep in the slime. Mound of mud and rock is about 50 feet deep and 1,000 yards long. (AP Photo)

$150 Million More For Low-Cost Homes

OTTAWA (CP) — The government served notice today it intends to ask Parliament to provide an additional $150,000,000 for new low-cost housing and to make possible lower down payments.

Works Minister Green, on the Commons order paper gave notice of legislation to amend the National Housing Act, 1954, by increasing to $400,000,000 from $250,000,000 the aggregate amount that may be paid out of the consolidated revenue fund under appropriate sections of the act.

The legislation also would provide for reduction of down payments, his notice said.

The NHA legislation originally authorized the federal government to make $250,000,000 available from the treasury for low-cost housing. The former Liberal government subsequently released $100,000,000 of that money.

RELEASE REMAINDER

Last September, in a move to speed up home construction, increase employment and put more money into circulation, the Conservative government authorized the release of the remaining $150,000,000.

Last week, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, which administers the act, said two-thirds of the new amount has been contracted for and that loans thereunder study would account for most of the remainder.

Mr. Green, declining to spell out the proposal for reduced down payments until the legislation is discussed in the Commons—possibly next week—said the changes have been introduced to help Maritimes residents take advantage of the scheme.

Present down payments work out to $3,200 on a home of $16,000 lending value. CMHA officials said the lending value is a "realistic" appraisal of actual cost and usually coincides, except where builders add "extras" or charge more for superior sites.

Antarctic Crevasses Problem for Hillary

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (Reuters) — Sir Edmund Hillary and his New Zealand tractor party today reached a new Antarctic depot on their way to meet another group attempting the first land crossing of the treacherous "white continent."

Officials here received a message from Hillary, conqueror of Mount Everest, reporting his party arrived at Depot 480—720 miles from the South Pole—after a two-week, 200-mile trip from Depot 280 near the rim of the polar plateau. Hillary's group hit bad weather on the latest stage of VANCOUVER (CP) — Heavy winds whipped through southern British Columbia Monday night, disrupting communications over a wide area.

Telephone and telegraph service between Vancouver, interior B.C. and eastern Canada was out for long periods. News wire service to the interior was still disrupted today.

No injuries were reported.

A gust of nearly 80 miles an hour culminated a five-minute storm at Vancouver that produced steady winds 35 to 40 miles an hour.

Goya Photostats At Art Gallery

Photographic reproductions of the now-famous Victoria art find, an 18th century sketch book by Francisco Goya, went on display today at the Victoria Art Gallery.

They have been loaned by J. P. E. Klaverwyden, who bought the sketch book at auction here for $20.

The original sketch book has been valued by authorities at $465,000.

The photostats on display at the Art Gallery, 1040 Moss Street, were made for Mr. Klaverwyden so they could be sent to art experts in Europe and the United States while the original book remained here in safe keeping.

All 81 pages of the small, parchment sketch book can be seen. The first page of the book consists of numerals, thought to be a list of sums in Italian lira, possibly an expense list.

MEDIA VARIED

The sketches were evidently made when Goya, as a young man of 22 spent a short time in Italy. Some of the sketches were done in reddish chalk, others with brush and ink. Most of them depict various human types Goya encountered in Rome and elsewhere; beggars, street vendors, aristocrats, and artists sketching.

The photostats will be on display daily through next Sunday. Art Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. weekdays, and 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday. It is also open Friday evening 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Requests Top $1.5 Billion, Premiers Told

(See Also Page 3)

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's 10 provincial premiers were told today that their varied requests for federal aid, placed before the federal-provincial fiscal conference, would cost the national treasury "something substantially in excess of $1,500,000,000 a year."

That estimate was made by federal Finance Minister Donald Fleming at the windup of open sessions in which the provinces put their case for a fatter share of national tax revenues.

The conference then began a closed-door meeting with Mr. Fleming's request that its main purpose be to work out some system of priorities for the varied provincial requests.

The finance minister said the federal government will not disagree with any proposal, but his repeated reference to a "necessarily limited" federal purse made it clear the central government will go only part way in meeting all provincial demands.

NEW BULLETIN LATER

She was unable to explain why the seriousness of the president's illness was not made public until today although the medical bulletin made it clear that he was examined Monday by the specialists from Walter Reed Army Medical Centre.

She said there would be another medical bulletin later today after the president has another examination.

The bulletin on the president's condition was issued by his physician, Dr. Snyder, and Lt.-Gen. Leonard Heaton, commanding officer at Walter Reed.

The first official public word from his doctors about the nature of his illness came at 3 p.m. EST (noon PST) today.

NOT ACCURATE

They said he had suffered a temporary speech impairment during the night and that "this confirms our original diagnosis that the president suffered an occlusion of the small branch of the middle cerebral artery on the left side."

Associate White House press secretary Anne Wheaton at first translated this as "a slight stroke."

But under persistent questioning, she called in Maj.-Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the president's physician, and later said this was not accurate—that there was no evidence of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Wheaton said the medical report was reviewed and approved by Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, Attorney-General William P. Rogers and presidential assistant Sherman Adams before it was released to reporters.

Saudi Arabian Army on Alert

Would Aid Jordan Repel Israelis; Hammarskjold to Leave U.S. Friday

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — A Saudi Arabian official said today that troops of his country stationed in Jordan are on an emergency footing to help their hosts repel any Israeli attack.

Sheikh Ahmad Kuheimi, Saudi charge d'affairs here, announced that leaves for all Saudi officers and men stationed in Jordan have been cancelled.

He said he delivered a message Monday from King Saud to King Hussein assuring the Jordanian monarch of help if Israel should attack.

A state of emergency was declared for Jordan's armed forces after Jordan blocked an Israeli motor convoy headed for Mount Scopus in the demilitarized area near Jerusalem last week. Jordan said gasoline carried by the convoy was "war material" but Israel denied this.

NO BOYCOTT OF UN

B.C. Doctor Pleads Guilty To Tax Charge

VANCOUVER (CP) — A medical doctor pleaded guilty in police court Monday to 12 charges of income tax evasion which involve concealing $60,258 in gross fees in the last 12 years.

Dr. Gustav Schilder, an internal medicine specialist, was remanded a week for sentence by Magistrate Oscar Orr, who remarked that as the offences dated back to the time of the Second World War they "were in the nature of treason."

The maximum penalty is $10,000 fine or two years in prison.

Prosecutor William S. Young said the accused used several systems to suppress income returns, including a code system of dashes, underlines and German words so he could keep track of actual charges made.

GUERRILLAS TAKE CAPITAL

RABAT, Morocco (Reuters) — Moroccan guerrillas have captured the capital of Ifni, a Spanish enclave in southern Morocco where fighting has been going on since the weekend, the government newspaper Al Alam said here today.

The newspaper is the main source in Rabat for news of clashes in Ifni, on the Atlantic coast of North Africa, between Spanish troops and Moroccans in the self-styled "army of liberation."

Power From Sea Britain's Future Aim

HARWELL, England (CP) —

Within the next generation Britain may be able to derive electrical power from sea water members of Canada's trade mission were told today.

UN officials indicated that visits to Damascus, Cairo and Jerusalem may follow the trip to Amman, Syria, Egypt, Israel and Jordan all have been involved in recent flareups threatening a new crisis.

Hammarskjold's decision to go to the Middle East apparently was spurred by Jordan's rejection of U.S. Marine Col. Byron Leary as a UN mediation officer. Jordan said Sunday it considers Leary biased for Israel and no longer will accept his recommendations. New exchanges of gunfire on Israel's borders with Jordan and Syria also appear to have played a part in the decision.

FIRE ON SETTLERS

Shooting was reported on the Syrian-Israeli border Monday. Israel charged that Syrian troops fired on settlers and on a car near the Israeli village of Dan, close to the area where an Israeli field worker was reportedly killed Sunday.

Another version came from Damascus. A Syrian spokesman said a five-man Israeli unit entered the demilitarized zone and fired on Arab shepherds near Daret el Magha.

Britain, France End Tunisia Arms Issue

PARIS (Reuters) — The British and French prime ministers today decided "to make arrangements" designed to avoid fresh quarrels over British-American arms shipments to Tunisia.

The decision was announced in a communiqué winding up two days of talks between Britain's Harold Macmillan and France's Felix Gaillard.

A British delegation spokesman said this does not mean Britain will send no more arms to Tunisia. He said the decision means Britain will consult France if Tunisia asks for more arms.

Both British and French officials said full identity on all aspects of foreign policy had not been brought about but "both sides now know each other's point of view thoroughly."

Both prime ministers appeared cheerful after the discussions. Macmillan told reporters the talks were "a success."

The communiqué said:

Demands by Bennett Astonish Opponents

Bennett Asks Full National Health Program

(Special to The Times)

OTTAWA—A full program of national health insurance, including doctors' bills, was advocated Monday by Premier Bennett in a brief to the federal-provincial conference.

The premier said the plan should be implemented "step by step," with the federal government paying at least half the cost.

"It should be recognized that the ability and means of financing provincial programs will vary," the brief said, "therefore, piecemeal introduction of segments of the whole program without necessity of a uniform basis of financial support from all provinces should be anticipated and provided for in the national program."

WOULD WIDEN SCOPE

Provinces that are ready to go ahead with some steps should not be penalized because the others are behind, he said.

"Even if this idea should mean that for a period only two or three provinces would benefit from federal co-operation, this fact should be recognized as an encouragement for others to follow."

The premier said the national health program should include these services:

MUNICIPAL NEEDS

Conservative Leader Deane Finlayson said more attention should be paid to municipal needs by Premier Bennett.

"As for his asking $400,000 from Ottawa for road building, he's asking more cash aid for a five-year program than he's spent himself in five years in office," said Mr. Finlayson.

2. Laboratory and X-ray diagnostic service to out-patients.

3. Home nursing service.

4. Nursing-home care of patients suffering from chronic illness.

5. Medical-care service.

6. Dental care (to be restricted to children initially but subsequently to include additional age-groups as facilities become available).

7. Certain drugs, prescriptions, artificial limbs and appliances.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The family of a man killed in the TCA crash on Mount Slesse last December has been awarded $58,000 in the first crash settlement here.

The settlement for the family of Kenneth Roy Laird, 41, of nearby Burnaby, western manager of First Spice Mixing Co., Toronto, was approved by Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson in Supreme Court, Monday.

Payment will be $12,000 to his daughter, Virginia, five; $10,000 to another daughter, Geraldine, eleven, and the balance to his widow.

Mrs. Laird also received $35,000 airplane insurance carried by her husband. Altogether 62 persons were killed in the crash.

$400 Million Request For Roads Held Steep

Opposition political leaders were slightly staggered by the demands Monday of Premier Bennett on the federal treasury.

It's hard to comment on that," said Opposition Leader Robert Strachan, "especially on the proposal that the federal government should give B.C. $400,000,000 for building roads. "If Premier Bennett can get that then every other province has a right to expect it in similar proportion too, and such a load would be too heavy on the federal treasury."

Mr. Strachan wanted more time to study the premier's proposals, but wished him "every success" in getting more federal aid for B.C.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker's answer to Premier Bennett will indicate how much faith we can have in Conservative promises when they come back to the electorate next year," he said.

"Applied to Canada, Premier Bennett's demands would mean a $6,000,000,000 budget," said Liberal Leader Arthur Laing.

Mr. Laing said Canadians must learn that all three levels of government are financed by the same taxpayer.

"We have been telling Canada we are its most prosperous province," he said. "Now, having shut down practically every public project in the province, our government makes demands for hundreds of millions of dollars from representatives of our own taxpayers.

WOULD WIDEN SCOPE

Provinces that are ready to go ahead with some steps should not be penalized because the others are behind, he said.

"Even if this idea should mean that for a period only two or three provinces would benefit from federal co-operation, this fact should be recognized as an encouragement for others to follow."

"As for his asking $400,000 from Ottawa for road building, he's asking more cash aid for a five-year program than he's spent himself in five years in office," said Mr. Finlayson.

Premier Bennett's road-building program would cost more than half a billion dollars over the next five years.

The premier chose the national capital to make the announcement because he expects the federal government to pay almost 80 per cent of the cost.

Mr. Bennett estimates that the total cost of new primary, secondary and mineral and forest access roads over the next five years will be $323,807,000.

He says Ottawa should pay 90 per cent of the cost of primary highways—by far the largest category in his plan—and 50 per cent of secondary and resource roads, or a total of $409,636,000.

TOPS TRANS-CANADA

This amounts to $81,927,200 to be paid annually by the federal government, compared with the $17,200,000 to be paid over during the current fiscal year for work on the Trans-Canada Highway.

Next most costly item is completion of the northern trans-provincial highway from Yellowhead on the Alberta border to Prince Rupert. $78,250,000.

Also proposed is expenditure of $57,000,000 for a highway between Watson Lake, near the Yukon boundary, to Terrace, which would take in part of the Cassiar-Stewart Road.

On Vancouver Island, the Campbell River to Port Hardy extension is estimated to cost $17,850,000.

Russ Missiles Ahead of U.S., Says Doolittle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. James Doolittle (Ret.) testified today that Russia "certainly is ahead of us" in all land-fired missiles. He said the United States leads in air-to-air types.

Doolittle, who heads the national advisory committee for aeronautics, told the Senate preparedness subcommittee that the U.S. fell behind the Soviets because it had no co-ordinated program until 1953.

WORKING HARDER

He said the Russians started missile developments in 1946 and "they have been working harder at it than we have."

Doolittle's testimony was in direct contradiction of contentions by former president Truman. Truman has said that he organized a unified missile program while in the White House but that it was allowed to deteriorate under the Eisenhower administration.

Doolittle, a famed flier who led the first air attacks on Japan in the Second World War, was the first witness of the Senate subcommittee's second day of hearings on the U.S. missile situation.

Based on the first day of hearings, when a group of scientists were heard, Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (Dem. Tex.) said he regards the Russian lead in missiles as "only a symbol of an even greater danger" that the United States may fall behind in the weapons of the future.

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — An offer for adoption of 18-month-old Selma Murray, survivor of the Mount Hays landslide Friday, was received Monday from a West Vancouver woman in a long-distance call to acting Mayor P. J. Lester.

Mrs. Ronald Brown said that she and her husband had a room in their house "all prepared" in the event they would be able to adopt the daughter of slide victims Mr. and Mrs. John Murray.

The couple, who have one daughter of their own, told Mr. Lester that they "always wanted another girl."

Off the High Seas

MR. GEORGE HEES, MINISTER of transport, explains to Parliament that the Government could not reasonably prevent the Canadian National West Indies Steamships Ltd. from transferring eight Canadian vessels to Trinidad registry.

These ships had been tied up since July by the Seafarers' International Union, in a wage dispute. The operators had offered wage concessions costing nearly $200,000 a year, and a resulting deficit of more than that amount would have to be met by the Canadian taxpayers, who own the ships. The union rejected this offer.

The Government, says Mr. Hees, could see no reason why the taxpayers should be thus penalized. It therefore approved the operators' plan to register the ships in Trinidad, and employ new crews there, some 220 men. The new recruits will accept wages much below those demanded by the Canadian union.

Here we have a classic case of a union pricing itself out of employment.

Mr. Hees is to be congratulated on refusing to unload upon the taxpayers heavy operating costs that ship operations simply cannot pay out of their earnings.

But it is tragic just the same, it is economic lunacy of an acute sort, when Canada finds itself unable to operate merchant ships at competitive rates in the world market. When the Seafarers' Union drives our ships to Trinidad it serves no useful purpose for Canada or itself. It has simply exported 220 jobs to foreigners.

Time to Test Hunters

AT AN INQUEST IN DUNCAN the other day a coroner's jury heard a familiar story. A hunter fired at an object he thought was a buck and killed a man.

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death and recommended a change in the Game Act to require hunters to wear brightly colored clothing.

The tragedy does not, of course, end there. A hunter's rifle bullet has not only taken the life of a man. It has inflicted lasting injury on the family dependent on the victim. And undoubtedly the anguish of the man who fired the shot will stay with him.

The case from which the inquest arose was one of eight or nine fatalities recorded in British Columbia's current hunting season with some months yet to go. It is too much to hope that it will be the last of the season during which about 90,000 people will have packed guns into the woods.

Everyone realizes that accidents will occur in the wilds, just as they do in the home and on downtown streets. But everyone must now be wondering to what degree the auth-

This is not an isolated case. As Mr. Hees says, the transfer of eight Canadian National ships is only one of a long series of such sales and transfers. A great world trader, Canada is ceasing to be a merchant marine nation because its operating costs are too high.

If the Government is quite right in refusing to fasten excessive costs on the taxpayers by way of huge subsidies to shipping lines, it has evidently changed its thinking remarkably since the June election.

In Opposition, the Conservative Party often attacked the Liberal Government for refusing to do what the Conservative Government is refusing to do now.

Mr. Howard Green, minister of public works, frequently promised that his party would re-establish a Canadian merchant marine destroyed, he said, by the blundering, penny-pinching Liberals.

In March, 1955, Mr. Hees, speaking at Vancouver, said that the Government's "do-nothing" policies were driving our ships from the high seas. Canada, he urged, must maintain a strong nucleus of at least 50 ocean-going ships as protection in case of war — this, presumably, at government expense.

The responsibilities of office have sobered Mr. Hees. He is following the "do-nothing" policies of his predecessors. What else can he do? It was unwise to play pre-election politics with our shipping problems. It would be even worse folly now to make the taxpayers pay the wages demanded by the Seafarers' Union since they bear no relation to competitive costs.

orities have taken steps to reduce risks.

In this province anyone over 18 who has lived here long enough can obtain a hunting licence upon payment of a fee, and with no test of ability to prove or disprove competence with firearms.

Is that good enough? The mortality statistics say it's not.

This is no longer the day of the pioneer when men from boyhood on were familiar with guns and could shoot with little chance of hitting companions or other hunters. The traffic in the woods is heavy now. The time is past when anyone, with or without ability or a sense of responsibility, should be allowed to hunt.

The time has come for the authorities to set definite standards of proficiency for those entitled to licences — perhaps training courses for prospective hunters. Regulations should be enforced to see as far as possible that people entering the woods with guns are not a danger to themselves or anyone else in the vicinity. The shame of our annual hunting season death toll cannot be tolerated.

Thoughts on Remembrance Day

PADRE J. A. ROBERTS, A RESERVE naval chaplain, has made some cogent observations on Remembrance Day in the HMCS Malahat publication, "Smoke Signals."

Padre Roberts thinks that the true spirit of Remembrance Day has been debased in recent years. "I can well remember," he writes, "how impressive it used to be on Armistice Day to be marched out to the playground, where we stood bareheaded and at attention for two minutes' silence at 11 o'clock."

"In every shop, factory and office, workers donned their tools and laid aside whatever they were doing to stand silently in remembrance of those who, not counting their lives dear unto themselves, laid them down for their friends.

"Nowadays Remembrance Day is a holiday. The theory is that all citizens will therefore be free to attend the services of Remembrance at their local Cenotaph or memorial and a fitting observance of great events in our history will result. What a mockery this theory turns out to be in practice."

"A holiday which has been hardly won by labor is not likely to be given up lightly and without struggle. Our only recourse is . . . to impress upon all citizens that the day is not meant to be some kind of Roman carnival but a solemn and thankful Day of Remembrance."

To which we say, "Amen."

The Greater Enemy

STATISTICAL BULLETINS IN recent years have been taking note of the disparity between male and female death rates. The disparity is increasing all the time.

In 1926, for instance, the average length of life of white males in the United States was 57 years. White females lived an average of 59.6 years, a difference of 2.6. By 1955 this difference had increased to 6.3 years. Men were living 10 years longer, but women were living 14 years longer. The trend is continuing.

One of the great causes of the increase in female longevity, of course, has been the decrease in maternal mortality. This improvement has been a trend of the times and has done much to raise the female average. But another trend of the times has done just the opposite for males, and it is cited as one of the chief causes of the growing disparity in male and female life expectancy.

The cause is the increase in automobile accidents, which take a growing toll of male lives. Women are not immune, but the rate is less for them.

Highway accidents therefore take their place as one of the major enemies of mankind, to be viewed as plagues and diseases were a few years ago before medical science gained the upper hand with some of them.

The fact that car accidents are largely the fault of persons involved does not change the situation. The solemn statistics remain, and there is no satisfaction in the fact that they are being read increasingly by widows.

A Time of Waiting

IN the bright hot days of summer a young cowboy in an orange stetson, and his two bare-headed friends in tight blue jeans, tin-knocked with their green boat moored in the bay.

Before school they would arrive at the lot next door, jump off their bikes and follow a trail to the shore. There they'd run logs anchored to the rocks until they reached the boat.

From it would come their salty talk and laughter.

In the afternoons and in the long evenings they'd be back at the boat. Only occasionally had they money to fuel the small inboard engine. When they could afford it they'd go fishing.

As summer stretched into fall, they lifted the small inboard and wheeled it home in a boy's wagon.

For weeks the green boat rode at its mooring, floating low when the rain half-filled it. And then came the first mild blow of late autumn. The boat broke away.

BIRD WITH BROKEN WINGS

Now it is a pathetic, injured thing, one side smashed away from pounding on the rocks and plunking logs. It lies above high tide with shattered planks hanging from a skeleton of fractured ribs—a seabird with broken wings.

The sea that slumbered like a cat in July and August rousing infrequently for a kitten's play, has unsheathed its claws and shown its feline viciousness. Yet this is mild to what will come.

Old-timers at the beach walk the shoreline, harvest logs for firewood and look out over the Strait to marvel at the softness of the season. This, they know, cannot last. Their boats are hauled up, their summer equipment snugged down for the winter. They are waiting. The gales will come. The harbingers are here.

YOUR HEALTH

On the off-shore rocks the cormorants stand sentinel in funeral black. Closer in the butterballs are already forming their flocks.

Mallards and migratory ducks swing in at evening on whistling wings, swish to their landings on the water and start their guttural talk.

On the bank the trees have lost their leaves, small birds flock in the berry bushes, chirping their continuous gossip, and the husbandman turns the waste of his garden into compost. Lazy blue smoke lifts from rubbish fires to rise above a scene grey and russet.

The year is closing in. Fog rolls through the Strait. Trial Island sends out its mournful warning—a bull voice that carries within it a haunting melancholy soothed to those who have learned to know it.

MULTI-TUNED CHORUS

Unseen ships mark their passing with whistle blasts in multi-toned chorus. A diesel throbs its bass accompaniment and an unloaded freighter adds the rhythm of its thrashing screw.

Then the mists lift the stars sparkle on a black sea, the lights of boats move slowly across the bay's mouth and the signs of Port Angeles glimmer in color.

Morning comes with the bright sharpness of winter dawn, gold-leaving the mountain tops, spreading a shining carpet on the sea. And clear evening brings the sharp, primitive colors of November sunset above the dark Sooke hills.

But all this is merely prelude. The smashed boat above the drift line on the beach, the close gathering ducks, the leafless trees in winter symmetry, the November mists, the dirge of foghorns and ship whistles, the bright dawns and gaudy sunsets of clear days. are only settings for the wild drama to come.

Maybe Teacher Will Learn Now!

HAMILTON (CP)—If the students learned well from the teacher, then coach Jim Trimble of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats is in for a rough afternoon Saturday.

That Guyle Creeping Up In Point Race

Gord Fashoway of New Westminster has pulled into a tie with teammate Mac McNab for individual scoring honors in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

PLAYED FOR TRIMBLE

Grant and Robinson both played under Trimble with the Philadelphia Eagles in the National Football League. Both learned their jobs well as players, Grant an end and Robinson a linebacker. Each rated all-pro mention.

Both head coaches now have teams that use similar attacking methods, stressing control of the ball and strong running attacks.

Trimble figures he still has a couple of tricks up his sleeve. His Ticats went through the season running up the middle so much Trimble was rapped by the fans for not giving them a diversified offence.

SOMETHING NEW

Then they had to come up with something new against Ottawa Rough Riders to come out on top of the Big Four Football League and they did. Trimble popped up with a pass off a kick formation and Ticats ended first.

Against Montreal Alouettes in the league final Trimble again came up with that something extra—a passing attack built around fullback Gerry McDougal—and it clicked for a 39-1 victory in the second game of the two-game, total-point series.

Trimble emphasizes he hasn't exhausted his bag of tricks yet. Even for former students, he says, he's got something new they can learn.

The coaching staff undoubtedly had such things in mind Monday when they looked over some films and mimeographed new offensive formations for the big one.

HEALTH SQUAD

Medical reports reflected the general air of optimism pervading the Hamilton camp. There are no serious hurts outside of Dave Sunumski's broken hand—he'll play anyway—and a leg ailment that will keep Al Darch out of the game.

Shooting for a second Grey Cup victory along with a group of Ticat veterans who defeated the Bombers in 1953 will be the first-year quarterback Bernie Faloney.

Faloney called the signals for Edmonton Eskimos in 1953 for the first of their three straight national titles, and another win Saturday would give him the distinction of directing both an eastern and a western cup champion.

Swimming Meet On Tap Thursday

Victoria YMCA swimmers will host Bremerton "Y" Saturday in a swim gala at the Crystal Gardens starting at 7:15 p.m.

Bremerton coach Dan Garber will bring 46 contestants with him for the 36 events carded.

Victoria coach Archie McKinnon asks that all club members, particularly midgets, and juniors, make a special effort to attend practices at the "Y" Wednesday at 7 p.m. and the Crystal Garden Thursday at 7 p.m.

Teams will be chosen at the Thursday trials.

'Pocket Rocket' Tops NHL Scoring Parade

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Canadiens' current high-scoring trio each picked up three points in National Hockey League action last week to hold their top places in the scoring list, with Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard heading the parade.

The little Rocket scored one goal and contributed two assists in Montreal's two games, running his point total to 27. His brother Maurice, the Rocket, is still in second place with 23 points although he has been sidelined since Nov. 13 with an injury.

Jean Beliveau collected three assists and Dickie Moore a goal and two assists to remain tied for third place with 22 points.

Henri Richard is setting the pace for goal scoring, with 13 and is tied at 14 with Beliveau and Moore for the most assists.

RANGERS HANG ON

New York Rangers hung on to top place in the league race. They won, lost and tied their three games and now have 26 points, one more than Canadiens. The Montrealers, who have played three fewer games, won and tied in their two outings last week for the best percentage among the six clubs—three of a possible four points.

The four other teams had no more luck in bettering their positions. Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks each could salvage only one point and remained tied for third place.

100 POLICEMEN READY FOR GREY CUP CLASSIC

CRU Loves Those Fans, But...

TORONTO (CP)—It might be appropriate to start Grey Cup Week with a notice to people who pay from $5 to $10 a seat for Saturday's East-West final that the Canadian Rugby Union loves you. Moreover, the CRU knows you will behave yourselves.

However, just in case some over-exuberant fans wish to take part in the proceedings on the field, they'll bump into trouble in the form of off-duty Toronto policemen. There will be 100 fellows in blue inside the park, no more than usual at Grey Cup time.

"We don't expect trouble,"

Irwin Takes Manager's Post With Shamrocks

The "Old Guard" will still have representation on the active list as far as the Victoria Shamrocks are concerned.

Following the resignation of Ralph Baker at the annual general meeting of the Victoria lacrosse club Monday night in the Empress Hotel, the directors chose Harry Irwin as team manager for the coming season.

Irwin was with the "Rocks" when they were first formed in 1949. He retired from active playing last season and moved to the directorate as one of the 15-man board.

Named coach, again, by unanimous choice was Whitey Severson, whose job it has been in the past three years to lead the team through the Inter-City Lacrosse League and to Mann Cup Dominion champion ship in the past season.

Severson said, in accepting the post, that his job would be done from the bench in the future and that his playing days were definitely over.

The team presented the coach with a set of luggage as an expression of their thanks for taking the floor and helping the team win the Mann Cup.

Will Glass Shafts Be Very Popular?

By ERNIE FEDORUK

It's about that time of year when members of the household start thinking about Christmas purchases. Golfers are fairly easy to please in this respect, since most will accept a dozen new golf balls, or any golf item, with some joy.

Talking about Christmas presents the other day, the discussion got around to the new, glass-shaft clubs which have been showing up in increasing numbers in good golf stores and at pro shops. These clubs, at present, are being treated by the public much like the glass fishing rods were when the latter put in their first appearances. In other words, glass-shafted clubs are interesting the customers but, because the item happens to be a reasonably new idea, the customers are also as wary as they are interested.

The glass fishing rods have proved to be extremely popular and several golf professionals, including Colwood's Bill Court, are convinced the glass-shafted clubs will turn out to be big sellers.

While we are definitely in no position to be classed as an "expert" on golf clubs, it does appear that the glass shafts are receiving solid support of many big-name pros. Certainly, the glass shafts of today are much improved over those that first appeared on the markets. Companies have continually experimented with, and improved, the clubs. These same companies received a big boost earlier this year when Dick Mayer won both the U.S. Open and the Tam O'Shanter events while using them.

In the opinion of the experts, the glass is kept straighter than their steel counterparts. This is supposed to be one of the big advantages since it eliminates a kickback (or tremor) that is caused by "whippy" shafts.

Elimination of the kick-back thus gives a golfer a greater degree of accuracy.

There is one point that the buyer should always remember, whether he (or she) is buying glass or steel shafts: good clubs help attain good scores.

Unless you know exactly what you want in the way of clubs, always try to discuss it with one who knows—the golf pro.

SHORT CHIPS: Bob Fleming's golf clinic certainly proved interesting but if Sunday's show at Gorge Vale had any disappointments, it was this: not enough of the "big" names turned up. Laurie Kerr and Vincie Clarkson mingled with the crowd, but they appeared to be the only low-handicappers in view . . . certainly the golf turned in by Tacoma's Ken Still, in his first "look" at the Gorge course, was exciting enough . . . he might have shot a 67 if the ball didn't bounce out of the cup on the 18th.

An 18-man work bee helped Court move into his new shop at Colwood Sunday. . . . Annual presentation of prizes will be held at the Colwood Club Friday night . . . C. J.

SORRY, FANS, BUT IT'S FOR SECURITY'S SAKE!

EDMONTON (BUP) — No films of Saturday's Western Football Conference final, won by Winnipeg Blue Bombers, 17-2, in overtime, will be given public viewing until after the Grey Cup final in Toronto next Saturday.

Sydney Halter, commissioner of the Western Conference, explained this was so the Big Four champion Hamilton Tiger-Cats could not study key plays used by the Bombers.

Librarian

Guest Speaker
At Canadian Club

R. D. Hilton-Smith, antiquarian bookseller, librarian and author, will be guest speaker at the meeting of Women's Canadian Club on Wednesday at 2 p.m., in the Empress Hotel. His topic will be "Canada Between Covers."

A well-known figure in literary circles in Canada and the United Kingdom, Mr. Smith was born in London, England, and educated at St. Marylebone Grammar School and the University of London, becoming a Diplomat and Fellow of the Library Association of Great Britain. He received the Carnegie Travel Grant for study in 1934 enabling him to tour North American libraries and the Rockefeller Travel Grant for library survey of Scandinavia and the Netherlands in 1936.

Mr. Smith has held library posts in England; has been chairman and Canadian editor, Encyclopaedia Britannica since 1952 and chairman of the Governor-General's literary awards board from 1954-56. He was deputy chief librarian of Toronto Public Libraries for 10 years and special lecturer in English literature at the University of Toronto for three years.

He has written a publication "Public Library Lighting" and was associated in writing "Library Buildings."

With his wife, Mr. Smith came to Victoria during the Second World War and is now proprietor of the Adelphi Book Shop here.

Here's a book that tells you how to make that Yuletide decoration. It gives instructions on centrepieces, mantel decorations and window displays. The price of this precious little magazine is 10 cents.

If you're thinking about entering the Festival of Christmas Decorations in the Empress Hotel on Dec. 11 and 12, you'll want something new and different in ideas. The book I mentioned would help you, and so would a can of artificial snow. Give your entry a touch of winter atmosphere. Canned snow comes at 98 cents.

The festival is under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to the Family and Children's Service and entries in the different classes close on Dec. 7. So if you are artistically inclined, add your ideas to the many lovely entries. You have a chance to win some handsome prizes. For further information phone me.

Must tell you about the beautiful potted candles topped with wax flowers in a rainbow of colors. Grand gifts for mothers, sisters or aunts. I saw them for $1. Phone me at 2-3131 and find out!

Grandmother Feels She Has Been Shelved

A friend of mine, who is a grandmother like myself, has a granddaughter who was recently married. Besides giving a handsome present, she made the wedding dress and the attendants' dresses. Came the great day and grandmother was placed among the guests of no importance. She was very hurt as there were people at the head table who had done nothing for the bride and who were nothing to the bride. One was merely the toastmaster's wife. Should the grandmother have been seated at the head table or is she just a mere guest? There's to be a wedding in my own family soon and I would like to get the matter straight for another grandmother's sake.

Louise Davis Answers:

I really don't think that the bride or her parents were thoughtless or that they dreamed for one minute that your friend might have felt slighted. It is the general custom that the grandparents, as well as the parents, do not sit

LEAVING FOR HOLLAND

A month's holiday in her native Holland is ahead for Mrs. Rudolph Van den Brink, 1422 Newport Avenue, who leaves Friday with her Canadian-born daughter, 14-months-old Grace.

Mrs. Van den Brink expects to return to Victoria in time to spend Christmas with her husband. She and her daughter will fly over the Polar Route to Amsterdam, then travel to Apeldoorn to visit Mr. and Mrs. G. Ster, Mrs. Van den Brink's brother and sister-in-law.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Married 50 Years

A golden wedding anniversary party will be given at head-quarters Victoria branch, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, on Wednesday to honor Mr. and Mrs. William Wherrell, residents of Victoria for 21 years. Mr. and Mrs. Wherrell were married Nov. 29, 1907, in St. Ellen's Church, North Kensington, London, England. In 1910 they moved to Canada, settling in Putnam, Ont. They lived on a farm in the Peace River country from 1919 to 1936, when they came to Victoria. They had six children, four of whom are still living: Mrs. Vera Gibbons, Mrs. Irene Blumquist, Victoria; Mr. Archie Wherrell, Mrs. Elsie Morland, Peace River. Mr. and Mrs. Wherrell also have 21 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Leaves for Britain

Leaving today for Britain is Miss Heloise Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Madeline Johnson. Miss Johnson will be accompanied to the mainland by her grandmother, Mrs. L. Fawson.

Washington Visitor

Mrs. Reese Boyd flew from her home in Washington, D.C. to spend a week in Victoria with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Van Norman, 1855 Fort Street. She will return to the Eastern United States at the end of the week.

Teachers Give Shower

Hadassah Told World Peace Kept by Armed Strength

TORONTO (CP)—The Israeli ambassador to Canada says Israel by armed strength can help preserve world peace.

Arthur Lourie Sunday night told 500 delegates to the 17th biennial convention of Hadassah.

"An Israel armed and ready to defend itself can be a powerful deterrent to local aggression which in time might be the spark for far-reaching explosions."

But, he told the Jewish women, if two world blocs confront each other in the Middle East there is little Israel can do for her own protection in the battle of giants.

The task remained, however, to strengthen Israel, maintaining security and preserving peace with her neighbors.

Canadian Hadassah is celebrating the 60th anniversary of the foundation of the world Zionist movement and the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Hadassah Organization of Canada.

Today's early sessions were devoted to discussions in the techniques of fund raising, carried out under the chairmanship of Mrs. M. H. Halperin of Winnipeg. Mrs. Harry Bloomfield of Edmonton and Mrs. Sheldon Cohen of Kingston, Ont.

Among those participating in the discussions were Mrs. M.

CAC Given Lesson in Hair Care

Pull your hair! Every day was a good one as it massaged the scalp muscles and stimulates circulation.

This was the suggestion offered by G. Dudley Stephens of Maison Dudley hair salon at a meeting of the Victoria Branch, Canadian Association of Consumers in the Music Room of the Victoria Public Library Monday afternoon.

Mr. Stephens was introduced by Mrs. J. L. Andrews, president of the group.

In his talk, the speaker said that time could be saved if the busy woman spent a short period each day with a towel "infra-red cutting," or the that affect of pulling hair and rubbed her locks till they "lamp cut."

"I am also a firm believer of the good old-fashioned brushing each day," he said, "and I prefer to use a bristle brush rather than the standard nylon type which does little more than stretch the hair."

Having returned recently from a trip to California, Mr. Stephens predicted the coming hair style for '58 would be short and casual.

Mr. Stephens also pointed out that time could be saved if the busy woman spent a short period each day with a towel "infra-red cutting," or the that affect of pulling hair and rubbed her locks till they "lamp cut."

Mr. Stephens also pointed out that time could be saved if the busy woman spent a short period each day with a towel "infra-red cutting," or the that affect of pulling hair and rubbed her locks till they "lamp cut."

Having returned recently from a trip to California, Mr. Stephens predicted the coming hair style for '58 would be short and casual.

EVERYTHING FOR HOME BUILDERS

THE FAMILY GAR

Has been a necessary and useful article for many years. However, like all other items, the family habits are changing and instead of the family car we see so many of the new cars, Station Wagons, Ranch-wagons and Stationwagons on the road today. In fact, in many parts of the country the Station wagon has become so popular that Showrooms and Salvage lots have a REPEAT OFFER ON ARBORITE

Special size sheets, 30" x 84".

Sears spotted this original offer and the response was amazing. Now we repeat it for those who still like to have them together so we offer the first 1000 to receive a range of patterns and colors. For sink tops the sheets cost 22" x 30" and 24" x 30" and come back without waste. For table tops you can work out the size yourself to best advantage.

CRYSTAL-CLEAR PLASTIC

Still a buy with us: 1" Common Shorts, per ft. $1.00; 2" Common Shorts, per ft. $1.15; 1" Common Random Length, per ft. $2.25; Oak thresholds per 37" length, 8¢.

Bullets Fly in Paris,
Killing N. African

PARIS (Reuters) — North Africans in a car pulled up outside a North African cafe Sunday night, fired a burst of sub-machine gun fire, hit a grenade, opened fire again and drove off.

A North African in the cafe was killed and another, standing on the pavement, was wounded. Police said the attack was apparently part of the feud between rival Algerian nationalist organizations.

Government Seeks Cottage Parents

Two cottage parents are required at the Brannan Lake School for delinquent boys near Nanaimo.

Wages offered are $223 rising to $276 a month for the husband and $188 a month for the wife.

The couple will be responsible for maintaining a "home-like atmosphere in a duplex unit housing 15 delinquent boys."

An announcement by the B.C. Civil Service Commission states that the cottage parents should have a "reasonably good education" and be capable of exercising a "tolerant attitude" to children in general.

Lower Juvenile Age Limit Urged by Carey

Greater Victoria municipalities were urged Monday night to press for lowering of the juvenile age limit from 18 to 16 years.

Coun. E. Carey, Esquimalt's representative on the governing committee, said the "biggest trouble" was caused by the 16 to 18-year-olds who corrupted younger offenders.

If the Juvenile Act were amended to lower the age limit to 16, "the home would be relieved of a great many problems," he said. Older offenders, he indicated, should be placed in the city jail apart from adults.

Traffic Fatalities Down

Traffic fatalities on B.C. roads continued to decline during the month of October, the provincial motor-vehicles branch reported today.

Twenty-two persons lost their lives during the month, compared with 31 in October, 1956.

There was a corresponding decrease in all other categories: number of accidents were down 1.74 per cent; injuries down 25

Elders Elected

By Seventh Day

Adventist Church

S. G. White and J. M. LeMarquand were elected elders of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, Pandora and Vancouver, at an annual meeting Sunday.

Other officials elected were Mrs. S. G. White, clerk; R. E. Robinson, treasurer; Dr. Reuben Matiko, medical and temperance secretary; Mr. LeMarquand, press secretary; S. L. Jewkes, home missionary leader; Mrs. C. A. Williams, Sabbath School superintendent, and Mrs. A. R. Hall, young people's leader.

A. F. Herman will be head deacon, and Mrs. W. Kwiram, head deaconess. Dorcas leader for 1958 will be Mrs. A. E. Capon.

The Pathfinder Club, a new group similar to the Girl Guides and Boy Scouts, will be headed by Mrs. A. R. Hall.

Mineral Reserve
On Large Area
In Chilcotin

The provincial government has placed a mineral reserve on a 40-square-mile area in the Chilcotin country, but Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan won't give the reason.

The minister said the area is about 60 miles north of the Bear Inlet, 100 miles inland and south of Anaheim Lake.

It is presumed that some private interests have expressed interest in a mineral deposit there, and the government wants to find out more about it before granting any leases.

Mr. Kiernan said it is not likely mines department geologists will be able to get into the area until after the snow melts next spring.

Victoria Motorcycle Club's "Red Feather Scramble" at Gill Ranch, Pender Bay, Sunday netted $37.35 for the Community Chest.

All persons having any accounts owing to them by the Royal and North Vancouver Community Hall Association, also known as "SANCHA," are requested to submit same, in detail, by Dec. 3, 1957, to the undersigned.

RE-ELECTION TO BE SOUGHT BY PASSMORE

Coun. Leslie Passmore of Saanich Monday night announced he will run for re-election in municipal elections Dec. 12.

Veteran of 17 years on council, he will join forces with reevehip candidate Coun. Eugene Diespecker on an anti-amalgamation platform.

His entry brought the number of candidates to six who will vie for four seats on council, besides the race for the reeve's chair.

Committee On New Hall To Continue

Saanich Council Monday night extended the life of the municipal hall committee to make complete investigation of all angles involved in building a $20,000 pre-fabricated Panabode temporary addition to the existing municipal offices.

Special meeting passed a motion by committee chairman Coun. George Chatterton calling for further investigation without committing next year's council.

Action will be left to the incoming council as a result of a "go slow" appeal made by Coun. George Austin.

"I'm just a little alarmed that this recommendation should come to us just before the election next month," he said. "There are many questions before council on things like amalgamation, a new municipal yard and possibly even further discussion of a joint municipal hall."

Coun. Leslie Passmore voiced strong opposition to a temporary addition because "temporary buildings have a way of becoming permanent."

The committee's recommendation came out of weeks-long investigation of about 11 alternatives. The Panabode building would provide 2,700 square feet.

The continuing committee will investigate costs of providing additional parking space, improving existing plumbing and the feasibility of a larger addition to eliminate the need for renting quarters for council chambers and provide needed space for the police department.

SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By FREEMAN KING

Duncan District: The Fourth Duncan Troop received its charter Sunday from J. S. Lawrence, president of Cowichan Valley Boy Scout district.

The ceremony was held in St. Edward's Hall before a large gathering of parents and friends.

Dennis Hogan, grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, Duncan council, which sponsors the group, also attended.

Alan McInnes, district commissioner, outlined the duties of the sponsoring body and the group committee.

Mount Arrowsmith District: D. P. Shepard, a member of the provincial council, will be guest speaker at the annual meeting Dec. 4.

Fourth Arrowsmith Group: A going-up ceremony was held recently when Terry Schan, Don Claiter, Kelly Busche, David Pepland, Pat and Mike Mahoney went on to the troop. Ray MacCullus received his gardener's and team player's badges.

Second Arrowsmith Group: Kurt Neilson received his swimmer's and interpreter's badges. Phil Harrison was made a second class scout and was presented with his swimmer's badge.

Comox: The regular meeting of the RCAF scout group committee was held in the Protestant Chapel board room with Flt. Lt. Evans in the chair.

It was decided to hold a bottle drive to raise funds to pay back the district committee for money borrowed to send a scout to the World Jamboree.

Provincial council of the scout association has announced the dates for the second part of the wood badges courses for 1958.

Cub leaders' course will be from June 21-28 at Camp Cariboo at Lac la Hache and at Camp Byng, near Gibsons, from Aug. 16 to 23.

Scout leaders' course will be from Aug. 5-13 at Camp Rill, near Oliver, and Aug. 23 to 31 at Camp Colwell, near Nanaimo.

Victoria District: Members of the district association took part in a clean-up campaign to clean Camp Edward for the sea-son.

RCAF Birthday Party Held in Baden Baden

BADEN BADEN, Germany (Reuters) — More than 375 RCAF CO's and their wives from France, Germany and Britain Saturday attended a ball in celebration of the fifth anniversary of the establishment of RCAF No. 1 Air Division in Europe.

TRUCK DRIVING CHAMP LOSES RODEO TITLE

Defending national truck driver-champion Gordon V. Smith, 3357 Linwood, lost his title Monday but placed second in his class at the 11th national truck rodeo in Toronto.

Mr. Smith, one of three navy-civilian truck drivers from Victoria that entered the rodeo, was beaten out of first place by three points in the single-axle trailer competition. He scored 340 out of 400 points.

At Sayers 677 Seven Oaks Road, who entered the same class, was knocked out in the final held by the American Trucking Association.

Aldo Duz, of Colwood, made third place in the tandem-axle trailer class with a score of 316.5 out of a possible 400 points.

Mayoral Candidate

PENTICTON (CP) — Maurice P. Finnerty, ex-MLA and president of radio station CKOK, was chosen Monday night at a public meeting as a mayoralty candidate in the Dec. 12 civic elections here.

Ripple Rock Blast Used to Test Earth

If you are planning to sail through Seymour Narrows in March or April of next year check with authorities first. Otherwise you might find 1,500 tons of dynamite going off underneath your boat.

This is the size of the charge which will smash the infamous Ripple Rock, geophysicist William Milne of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory told Gyo members at a Monday luncheon meeting.

At the same time of the explosion seismographs, tended by B.C. scientists, will be set up in an easterly direction from the rock through Lillooet, Salmon Arm, Glacier, Field and Lake Louise.

U.S. scientists are expected to utilize the "elastic wave effect" of the man-made "earthquake" by setting up their own seismographs south of the border in a north-south line.

Object of the recordings will be to determine more accurately the depth of the earth's crust in this area and to verify recent theories regarding its properties.

Scientists believe the earth is made up of a central core with

Stockpiling Plan Formulated By Adventists

Plans for stockpiling goods in case of disaster were formulated at an Island meeting of Dorcas Welfare Societies, Seventh-Day Adventists, here Sunday.

Churches in British Columbia will stockpile clothing, bedding, canned foods and first-aid supplies, and with Seventh-Day Adventist families, will be equipped with first aid and survival kits.

The action will be taken because "when disaster strikes, we should be prepared to give assistance to our immediate families as well as the community," Desmond E. Tinkler, secretary of health and welfare services, British Columbia Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, told the group.

"We must put forth every effort and be prepared to serve when the emergency arises."

Guest speaker at the meeting was J. M. Hnatyshyn, of Oshawa, Ont., head of Adventist welfare agencies in Canada.

The sound movie "Tornado," depicting work of Adventist relief agencies during recent tornadoes in the Eastern United States, was shown.

As he grew, the snail had trouble keeping hungry enemies from entering his house. He built spikes around his door. However, these spikes were in the way when a new whorl was added. So he dissolved them into his body and built new ones around his new door. These spikes do not interfere with Slow-Poke when he goes out from his shell. His body is so soft and tough that it flows right over them.

All snails begin life as eggs. Where the climate is moist, which is most of our continent, the eggs are left to hatch on the ground. But in our desert regions, eggs left on the ground would shrivel and perish. Certain snails of our southwest protect their babies from such a fate. The eggs are kept inside the parent's shell until they are hatched. These desert Slow-Pokes seem to give birth to live babies.

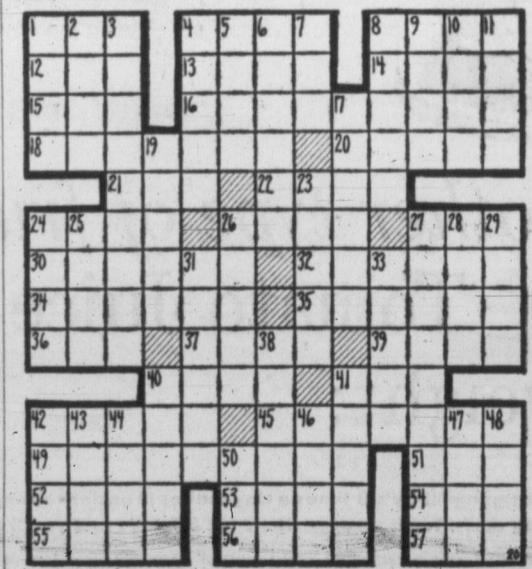

In moist climates, the land snail leaves its eggs behind in its slimy trail. If you are a good nature detective, you may find them. Find a ribbon of silvery snail track. The eggs are small and pale and you will find them spaced one by one. Since snails avoid direct sunlight, these eggs must hatch in the shade. However, a certain amount of sunlight is necessary for their development.

The youngster is a bity copy of his parents. When newly hatched, he is transparent, but a tiny shell has already started to grow on his back. The first thing he does is to eat his limey egg shell. This causes him to lose his glassy look and also provides nourishment for building his own shell.

There may be fifty to sixty youngsters in a brood. Each starts out at once in search of food. The favorite food is fungus. The baby snail finds it growing on damp leaves. The fungus is in the form of threads called mycelium, too fine for us to notice. But the little Slow-Poke finds and eats it. This fungus will be his daily bread throughout his life.

Should he ever become very hungry, the snail will nibble at a leaf. As a rule, snails stick to a diet of mycelium and let their cousins, the pesky slugs, feed on the green leaves.

As the snail grows, so does his shell. It is his home and must be big enough to shelter him. In two years, our Slow-Poke is fully grown. He has

Zhukov Ouster Warns Party Controls Army

MOSCOW (AP)—One month after Russia's foremost military officer was sacked for resisting Communist party controls, Nikita Khrushchev has warned the country's lowest new officers not to buck the party.

The Communist party secretary spoke at a reception Monday night for the graduating class of Moscow's military academies, reviving a custom that lapsed with Stalin's death in 1953.

Like Stalin, Khrushchev used the ceremony to remind the young officers that the party is supreme in Russia. He also called upon them to increase vigilance against "the threat of war whipped up by imperialists."

Khrushchev said Marshal Gorgi Zhukov was ousted as defence minister Oct. 26 for opposing control of the army. "The decision of the Central Committee to expel Zhukov aimed at a fundamental improvement of party political work in the armed forces," Khrushchev said.

The party was "leader, organizer, educator and main source of power" of the Soviet armed forces.

"The fulfillment of our great tasks are possible only through friendly co-operation of the commanders and political officers in the improvement of military personnel. The strength of the Soviet armed forces lies in the fact that their leader and organizer is in the Communist party."

'PANIC SELLING' AT NEW YORK

Heavy selling with prices dropping on the Wall Street markets was reported late this afternoon, following the announcement on President Eisenhower's health.

SIX BODIES BENEATH THIS RUBBLE

For the fourth straight day volunteers are digging through this mud and rubble in an effort to recover six, possibly seven bodies. Victims were swept to their death when the top of a mountain on the outskirts of Prince Rupert crashed three homes into a creek. Pathetic, mute evidence of the tragedy has been found in the form of half-finished meals and family photographs as the volunteers dug, at times waist deep in the slime. Mound of mud and rock is about 50 feet deep and 1,000 yards long. (AP Photo.)

$150 Million More For Low-Cost Homes

OTTAWA (CP) — The government served notice today it intends to ask Parliament to provide an additional $150,000,000 for new low-cost housing and to make possible lower down payments.

Works Minister Green, on the Commons order paper gave notice of legislation to amend the National Housing Act, 1954, by increasing to $400,000,000 from $250,000,000 the aggregate amount that may be paid out of the consolidated revenue fund under appropriate sections of the act.

The legislation also would provide for reduction of down payments, his notice said.

The NHA legislation originally authorized the federal government to make $250,000,000 available from the treasury for low-cost housing. The former Liberal government subsequently released $100,000,000 of that money.

RELEASE REMAINDER

Last September, in a move to speed up home construction, increase employment and put more money into circulation, the Conservative government authorized the release of the remaining $150,000,000.

Last week Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, which administers the act, said two-thirds of the new amount has been contracted for and that loans then under study would account for most of the remainder.

Mr. Green, declining to spell out the proposal for reduced down payments until the legislation is discussed in the Commons—possibly next week—said the changes have been introduced to help Maritimes residents take advantage of the scheme.

Present down payments work out to $3,200 on a home of $16,000 lending value. CMHA officials said the lending value is a "realistic" appraisal of actual cost and usually coincides, except where builders add "extras" or charge more for superior sites.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (Reuters) — Sir Edmund Hillary and his New Zealand factor party today reached a new Antarctic depot on their way to meet another group attempting the first land crossing of the treacherous "white" continent.

Officials here received a message from Hillary, conqueror of Mount Everest, reporting his party arrived at Depot 480—720 miles from the South Pole—after a two-week, 200-mile trip from Depot 280 near the rim of the polar plateau.

Storm Disrupts Communications

VANCOUVER (CP) — Heavy winds whipped through southern British Columbia Monday night, disrupting communications over a wide area.

Telephone and telegraph services between Vancouver, interior B.C. and eastern Canada was out for long periods. News wires to the interior was still disrupted today.

No injuries were reported. A gust of nearly 80 miles an hour culminated a five-minute storm at Vancouver that produced steady winds 35 to 40 miles an hour.

A Canadian Pacific airliner en route from Prince George to Vancouver with seven passengers and a crew of three was delayed overnight at Penticton. It completed its flight to Vancouver today.

The near-80 gust was the strongest ever registered at Vancouver's international airport.

At the height of the storm a six-foot brick chimney crashed through the living room window of a home in the Kitsilano district of Vancouver. The chimney had been torn from the roof of an adjoining house. No one was injured.

A Canadian Pacific airliner en route from Prince George to Vancouver with seven passengers and a crew of three was delayed overnight at Penticton. It completed its flight to Vancouver today.

The original sketch book has been valued by authorities at $465,000.

The photostats on display at the Art Gallery, 1040 Moss Street, were made for Mr. Klaeverwyden so they could be sent to art experts in Europe and the United States while the original book remained here in safe keeping.

All 81 pages of the small, parchment sketch book can be seen. The first page of the book consists of numerals, thought to be a list of sums in Italian lira, possibly an expanse list.

The sketches were evidently made when Goya, as a young man of 22 spent a short time in Italy. Some of the sketches were done in reddish chalk, others with brush and ink. Most of them depict various human types: Goya encountered in Rome and elsewhere: beggars, street vendors, aristocrats, and artists sketching.

The photostats will be on display daily through next Sunday. Art Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. weekdays, and 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday. It is also open Friday evening 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Requests Top $1.5 Billion, Premiers Told

(See Also Page 3)

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's 10 provincial premiers were told today that their varied requests for federal aid, placed before the federal-provincial fiscal conference, would cost the national treasury "something substantially in excess of $1,500,000,000 a year."

That estimate was made by federal Finance Minister Donald Fleming at the windup of open sessions in which the provinces put their case for a fatter share of national tax revenues.

The conference then began a closed-door meeting with Mr. Fleming's request that its main purpose be to work out some system of priorities for the varied provincial requests.

The finance minister said the federal government will not disagree with any proposal, but his repeated reference to a "necessarily limited" federal purse made it clear the central government will go only part way in meeting all provincial demands.

Speech Impaired But Doctors See Full Recovery

WASHINGTON (UP) — The White House said today that President Eisenhower has suffered a cerebral attack.

"All findings indicate no brain hemorrhage," it said in a 3 p.m. EST (noon PST) bulletin.

It said he had suffered a "slight impairment" in speech, but that this had "improved perceptibly."

The 67-year-old president's physicians said he must rest for several weeks but will not have to go to hospital.

The White House said in the "absence of other findings," and in the light of other factors, "the outlook for complete recovery within a reasonable period of time is excellent."

The president was put to bed Monday afternoon suffering from what the White House called "a chill."

The first official public word from his doctors about the nature of his illness came at 3 p.m. EST (noon PST) today.

NOT ACCURATE

They said he had suffered a temporary speech impairment during the night and that "this confirms our original diagnosis that the president suffered an occlusion of the small branch of the middle cerebral artery on the left side."

Associate White House press secretary Anne Wheaton at first translated this as "a slight stroke."

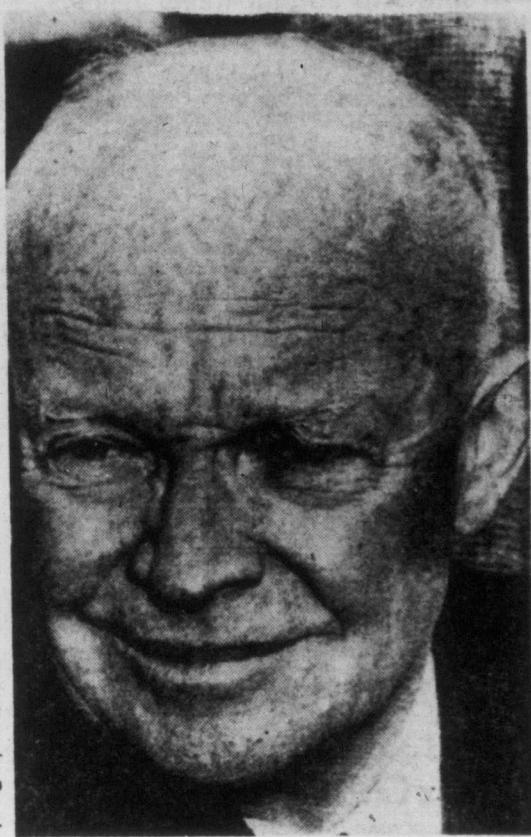

But under persistent questioning, she called in Maj.-Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, the president's physician, and later said this was not accurate — that there was no evidence of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Wheaton said the doctor's report was reviewed and approved by Vice-President Richard Nixon, Attorney-General William P. Rogers and presidential assistant Sherman Adams before it was released to reporters.

President Eisenhower today is suffering from what is described as a clot in the cerebral artery. His speech is impaired. Vice-President Nixon and the top U.S. authorities are in attendance at the White House. ## COLUMBIA STALEMATE SCORED BY NEUBERGER

NEW YORK (UP) — Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore.) said today the economy of the Pacific Northwest has been jeopardized by a stalemate between the United States and Canada over joint development of the hydro-electric potential of the Columbia River.

Neuberger, writing in the December issue of Harper's magazine, said the impasse has resulted in per capita incomes in the area falling off by comparison with the national average.

U.S. Test Satellite Launching Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists hope to launch the first

United States test satellite a week from Wednesday — just two months after Russia's pioneer Sputnik was fired into disastrous space.

A source high in the Vanguard satellite project said Monday Dec. 4 has been picked for the attempt to send aloft a six-pound sphere six inches in diameter.

The attempt, he said, will be made about dawn at the U.S. missile test centre, Cape Canaveral, Fla. If conditions were not right at that time, another effort would be made perhaps two days later.

The project Vanguard source who told of plans to fire the test satellite next week said it will be aimed southeastward and adjusted for a generally equatorial orbit.

If all goes as planned, he said, the tiny U.S. satellite should enter an orbit that would carry it to altitudes varying from 300 to 1,200 miles above the earth.

To shoot the small sphere to those heights, U.S. rocketeers will use a 72-foot launching assembly weighing more than 22,

RUSS ROCKET MAY PLUNGE ON SUNDAY

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A missile believed to be a Snark was fired today from this test centre.

The Snark is essentially a jet powered pilotless bomber. It travels at about 600 miles an hour and has a range of around 3,000 miles.

There was no further word on reports that a third attempt will be made at launching the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

TB PAVILION NEEDED

Korea Relief Fund Starting to Climb

The four walls against TB in Korea are going up!

Victorians have contributed 2,830½ bricks in three days of The Times campaign to build a TB out-patient pavilion for the sick children of Seoul.

We now have $283.04 and we need $12,000.

How desperately the pavilion is needed is probably only known by Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova, executive director of the Unitarian Services Committee sponsoring the project, and the stricken children themselves.

They are children who don't have to speak our language to ask for our help. They speak the universal language of the helpless and homeless. Their appeal is written in the painfully questioning eyes and starvation-weakened bodies of the very ill.

They are open prey for tuberculosis, the No. 1 killer in Korea today.

From across the sea, we can fight TB. Not with guided missiles, but with generosity. We can buy bricks at 10 cents each to raise the most modern TB pavilion Seoul has ever seen.

The pavilion will provide beds for 40 tubercular children and serve as a treatment and diagnosis centre that will reach hundreds more in the disease-ridden slums of Seoul.

What do we get in return?

Well, for one thing, our donations will be deductible from our income tax. A receipt is sent for each donation.

More important, we are given the chance to help our neighbors, who are willing to deny themselves a little in order to give others a lot.

How about buying some bricks for children who have so much less than we can ever imagine?

Saudi Arabian Army on Alert

Would Aid Jordan Repel Israelis; Hammarskjold to Leave U.S. Friday

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — A Saudi Arabian official said today that troops of his country stationed in Jordan are on an emergency footing to help their hosts repel an Israeli attack.

Sheikh Ahmad Kuheimi, Saudi charge d'affairs here, announced that leaves for all Saudi officers and men stationed in Jordan have been cancelled.

He said he delivered a message Monday from King Saad to King Hussein assuring the Jordanian monarch of help if Israel should attack.

A state of emergency was declared for Jordan's armed forces after Jordan blocked an Israeli motor convoy headed for Mount Scopus in the demilitarized area near Jerusalem last week. Jordan said gasoline carried by the convoy was "war material" but Israel denied this.

B.C. Doctor Pleads Guilty To Tax Charge

VANCOUVER (CP) — A medical doctor pleaded guilty in police court Monday to 12 charges of income tax evasion which involve concealing $60,258 in gross fees in the last 12 years.

Dr. Gustav Schilder, an internal medicine specialist, was remanded a week for sentence by Magistrate Oscar Orr, who remarked that as the offences dated back to the time of the Second World War they "were in the nature of treason."

The maximum penalty is $10,000 fine or two years in prison.

Prosecutor William S. Young said the accused used several systems to suppress income returns, including a code system of dashes, underlines and German words so he could keep track of actual charges made.

GUERRILLAS TAKE CAPITAL

RABAT, Morocco (Reuters) — Moroccan guerrillas have captured the capital of Ifni, a Spanish enclave in southern Morocco, where fighting has been going on since the weekend, the government newspaper Al Alam said here today.

The newspaper is the main source in Rabat for news of clashes in Ifni, on the Atlantic coast of North Africa, between Spanish troops and Moroccans of the self-styled "army of liberation."

Power From Sea Britain's Future Aim

HARWELL, England (CP) — Within the next generation Britain may be able to derive electrical power from sea water, members of Canada's trade mission were told today.

Opening their month-long tour of British industrial centres, members of the mission caught a glimpse of the vast developments being undertaken at this atomic research station where scientists are searching for sources of cheap power to replace the country's shrinking coal supply.

During their two-hour visit, the Canadians were shown various types of reactors and other experimental machinery along with an array of valuable isotopes of which bring her an income of some $1,500,000 a year.

HammarSKJOLD'S decision to go to the Middle East apparently was spurred by Jordan's rejection of U.S. Marine Col. Byron Leary as a UN mediation officer. Jordan said Sunday it considers Leary biased for Israel and no longer will accept his recommendations. New exchanges of gunfire on Israel's borders with Jordan and Syria also appear to have played a part in the decision.

FIRE ON SETTLERS

Shooting was reported on the Syrian-Israeli border Monday. Israel charged that Syrian troops fired on settlers and on a car near the Israeli village of Dan, close to the area where an Israeli field worker was reported killed Sunday.

Another version came from Damascus. A Syrian military spokesman said a five-man Israeli unit entered the demilitarized zone and fired on Arab shepherds near Daret el Maghadeer.

Britain, France End Tunisia Arms Issue.

PARIS (Reuters) — The British and French prime ministers today decided "to make arrangements" designed to avoid fresh quarrels over British-American arms shipments to Tunisia.

The decision was announced in a communiqué winding up two days of talks between Britain's Harold Macmillan and France's Felix Gaillard.

A British delegation spokesman said this does not mean Britain will send no more arms to Tunisia. He said the decision means Britain will consult France if Tunisia asks for more.

CBS-TV FOR KIRO

Victoria To Get 9th TV Channel

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

Victoria—already receiving more channels than any other major centre in Canada—will pick up its ninth, Channel 7, Feb. 7, at 9 a.m., it was learned today.

Lincoln Miller, vice-president of the Queen City Broadcasting Company, Seattle, which operates radio station KIRO and the new TV station, told the Times that General Electric Company engineers hope to have the first test pattern coming this way Christmas Day.

The new station will take over from Victoria's "most watched" channel, Channel 11 as a CBS-TV network affiliate.

On Feb. 8, according to Larry Carino, KNTV-TV station manager, Channel 11 will relinquish CBS-TV rights, which it has held for the past five years, and "go independent," showing mainly filmed shows, movies and concentrating on newscasts.

However, it was learned at the same time that Channel 12, which has been hooked up with Channel 11 for most CBS-TV offerings will become "partnered" instead with Channel 7.

Therefore, according to KVOS-TV's general manager, David Mintz, "our programs, as far as Victorians are concerned, will remain the same as in the past."

It is expected the new station, Channel 7, will "blanket" Victoria. Its transmitter will be located on Queen Anne Hill, Seattle, not far from the transmitters serving Channels 4 and 5. It will broadcast at a power of 316,000 watts.

No interference problems are expected to arise from the new station. Unlike the co-channel interference set up between Channel 5, Seattle and local station CHEK-TV, operating on Channel 6, there is a "gap" in the spectrum wide enough to allow Channels 6 and 7 to operate within their own channels without trespassing on one another.

$1 MILLION

Mr. Miller explained that the cost of the new station will be "well in excess" of $1,000,000. At present, new buildings are being erected across the street (Queen Anne Avenue) which will house KIRO radio facilities as well as business offices for both radio and the TV outlet.

The "old" building will be completely given over to television.

KIRO was finally awarded television rights after a long and hectic legal battle waged by competing Seattle television stations and two radio stations.

Stations now being received by all or part of Victoria include Vancouver (2), Seattle (4), (5), Victoria (6), Tacoma (11), Bellingham (12), Tacoma (13) and University of Washington (9). KIRO-TV (7) will boost the score to nine.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Christmas Decorations For the Festival or Home

By PENNY SAVER

All at once little of Victoria is a-glitter! Bright Christmas lights and cheery Santa Clauses are taking the place of ordinary decorations usually seen in local shops. Why, we're almost festive!

Looking at all the original decorations in the stores it didn't take me long to start thinking of home decorating ideas. So-o-here are a few I saw today.

Christmas trees that seemed almost real perched row upon row above my head on a shelf in one store. Two feet high and made of a rayon fabric, these trees would be perfect for a tiny living room or apartment. Hang baubles on the slim branches and there's your tree!

They come on a sturdy stand at $2.49. How about covering the stand in glass baubles? Might as well when they come at 69 cents to $1.29 a dozen.

* * *

If Christmas at your house is like ours, then you know that a crowded living room can be a question of "who can break the most baubles on the tree?" Now you can hang plastic balls on the branches, that are just as pretty and gay, and yet—there is no fear of breakage. A box of five come at 69 cents.

* * *

Here's a book that tells you how to make that Yuletide tea and bazaar of the Cats' Protection League will be held on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in the Canadian Legion Hall, 1616 Blanshard Street. There will be stalls of home cooking, aprons and hand-crafts, superfluities and books.

If you're thinking about entering the Festival of Christmas Decorations in the Empress Hotel on Dec. 11 and 12, you'll want something new and different in ideas. The book I mentioned would help you... and so would a can of artificial snow. Give your entry a touch of winter atmosphere. Canned snow comes at 98 cents.

The festival is under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to the Family and Children's Service and entries in the different classes close on Dec. 7. So if you are artistically inclined, add your ideas to the many lovely entries. You have a chance to win some handsome prizes. For further information phone me.

Must tell you about the beautiful potted candles topped with wax flowers in a rainbow of colors. Grand gifts for mothers, sisters or aunts. I saw them for $1. Know where? Phone me at 2-3131 and find out!

Librarian
Guest Speaker
At Canadian Club

R. D. Hilton-Smith, antiquarian bookseller, librarian and author, will be guest speaker at the meeting of Women's Canadian Club on Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Empress Hotel. His topic will be "Canada Between Covers."

A well-known figure in literary circles in Canada and the United Kingdom, Mr. Smith was born in London, England, and educated at St. Marylebone Grammar School and the University of London, becoming a Diplomat and Fellow of the Library Association of Great Britain. He received the Carnegie Travel Grant for study in 1934 enabling him to tour North American libraries and the Rockefeller Travel Grant for library survey of Scandinavia and the Netherlands in 1936.

Mr. Smith has held library posts in England; has been chairman and Canadian editorial adviser, Encyclopaedia Britannica since 1952 and chairman of the Governor-General's literary awards board from 1954-56. He was deputy chief librarian of Toronto Public Libraries for 10 years and special lecturer in English literature at the University of Toronto for three years.

He has written a publication "Public Library Lighting" and was associated in writing "Library Buildings."

With his wife, Mr. Smith came to Victoria during the Second World War and is now proprietor of the Adelphi Book Shop here.

Cats' Protection League Tea-Sale

The annual Christmas tea and bazaar of the Cats' Protection League will be held on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in the Canadian Legion Hall, 1616 Blanshard Street. There will be stalls of home cooking, aprons and hand-crafts, superfluities and books.

Proceeds will be used to carry on the animal welfare work of the league in Victoria.

The usual custom will be followed of distributing gifts of cat food donated to pensioners who have sent in their names and would like their pets to have extra rations for Christmas.

Convening the tea arrangements will be Mrs. I. D. Woods, assisted by Mrs. A. Carnochan, Mrs. J. Murray, Mrs. F. Baynton, Mrs. I. Jackson. Tea servers will be Mrs. T. Uncimic, Mrs. J. Zach, Mrs. G. Farmer, Mrs. J. M. Kirby, Miss G. Rosister, Miss W. Ross, Miss Ruth Collis. Assisting on the stalls will be Mrs. J. Stewart, Miss E. Mess, Miss O. Bossi, Mrs. E. L. Sproxton, Mrs. C. Blandy, Miss N. Puffs, Lines About Eyes
First Aid for Circles

Many women are worried over the lids while you rest about circles, puffs or lines. This helps reduce swelling and of sleep and illness can cause them. However, they are usually inherited.

Practically every woman needs an eye cream from middle age on and even before that date. Unless her skin is extremely oily, she should use one. Even then the tissues just surrounding the eyes may be dry, although the rest of the skin is oily. The epidermis should be cleansed first. The best time to use an eye cream is at night just before going to sleep. Most eye creams leave little or no greasy.

The habitual use of an eye cream plus the use of colored glasses in glare in order to avoid squinting will help avoid and minimize the little lines about the eyes. If you have eye strain, of course, this also causes squinting. Doing without glasses when you need them is most ageing. It is ageing in the lines it creates and also because you have to fumble around like an old woman. I have mentioned dark circles recently. Poor nutrition, lack of sleep and illness can cause them. However, they are usually inherited.

If you would like to have my leaflet of eye exercises (not corrective—just restful), send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 60 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

NIXON SAYS:

'IKE WILL GET BETTER'

FINAL ★ ★ ★ ★ BULLETINS

Ike Unable to Attend NATO Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department announced today that "it is to be assumed that President Eisenhower will not attend" the North Atlantic Treaty meeting at Paris in December.

Cancelled also is Eisenhower's third "chins up" speech on national security, planned for tonight at Cleveland.

'Personal Shock' Says John D.

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today news of President Eisenhower's illness came "as a personal shock" and that "our prayer is that the president will quickly be restored to good health."

External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith later informed a hushed Commons that the President had suffered a cerebral spasm "apparently very serious."

Detroit Wings Recall Prystai

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit Red Wings today recalled Metro Prystai, a 10-year National Hockey League veteran, from the Edmonton club in the Western Hockey League.

The Wings sent forward Tom McCarthy, a rookie, back to Edmonton.

Flu Toll Soars in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — The Welfare Ministry reported today that the death toll since September caused by the second wave of Asian flu now sweeping Japan has increased to 509 persons. A ministry official said 549 persons died in the first wave in May and June.

3 British Soldiers Jailed

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Three British soldiers were sentenced today to prison for handing over arms and ammunition to Cypriot Greeks in return for a motorboat in which they deserted to Turkey. Pte. David Peter Kerr, 20, was sentenced to six years imprisonment. The two other accused each received five years.

Storm Disrupts Communications

VANCOUVER (CP) — Heavy winds whipped through southern British Columbia Monday night, disrupting communications over a wide area.

Telephone and telegraph service between Vancouver, interior B.C. and eastern Canada was out for long periods. News wire service to the interior was still disrupted today.

No injuries were reported.

A gust of nearly 80 miles an hour culminated a five-minute storm at Vancouver that produced steady winds 35 to 40 miles an hour.

The near-80 gust was the strongest ever registered at Vancouver's international airport.

At the height of the storm a six-foot brick chimney crashed through the living room window of a home in the Kitsilano district of Vancouver. The chimney had been torn from the roof of an adjoining house. No one was injured.

A Canadian Pacific airliner en route from Prince George to Vancouver with seven passengers and a crew of three was delayed overnight at Penticton. It completed its flight to Vancouver today.

TB PAVILION NEEDED

Korea Relief Fund Starting to Climb

The four walls against TB in Korea are going up!

Victorians have contributed 8,300 bricks in three days of The Times campaign to build a TB out-patient pavilion for the sick children of Seoul.

We now have $283.04—and we need $12,000.

How desperately the pavilion is needed is probably only known by Dr. Lotta Hirschmanova, executive director of the Unitarian Services Committee sponsoring the project, and the stricken children themselves.

They are children who don't have to speak our language to ask for our help. They speak the universal language of the helpless and homeless. Their appeal is written in the painfully questioning eyes and starvation-weakened bodies of the very ill.

They are open prey for tuberculosis, the No. 1 killer in Korea today.

From across the sea, we can sight TB. Not with guided missiles, but with generosity. We can buy bricks at 10 cents each!

to raise the most modern TB pavilion Seoul has ever seen.

The pavilion will provide beds for 40 tubercular children and serve as a treatment and diagnosis centre that will reach hundreds more in the disease-ridden slums of Seoul.

What do we get in return? Well, for one thing, our donations will be deductible from our income tax. A receipt is sent for each donation.

More important, we are given the status of international good neighbors, who are willing to deny themselves a little in order to give others a lot.

How about buying some bricks for children who have so much less than we can ever imagine?

The sketches were evidently made when Goya, as a young man of 22, spent a short time in Italy. Some of the sketches were done in reddish chalk, others with brush and ink. Most of them depict various human types Goya encountered in Rome and elsewhere: beggars, street vendors, aristocrats, and artists sketching.

The photostats will be on display next Sunday. Art Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. weekdays, and 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday. It's also open Friday evening 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

$150 Million More For Home Building

OTTAWA (CP) — The government served notice today it intends to ask Parliament to provide an additional $150,000,000 for new low-cost housing and to make possible lower down payments.

Works Minister Green, on the Commons order paper gave notice of legislation to amend the National Housing Act, 1954, by increasing to $400,000,000 from $250,000,000 the aggregate amount that may be paid out of the consolidated revenue fund under appropriate sections of the act.

The legislation also would provide for reduction of down payments, his notice said.

The NHA legislation originally authorized the federal government to make $250,000,000 available from the treasury for low-cost housing. The former Liberal government subsequently released $100,000,000 of that money.

RELEASE REMAINDER

Last September, in a move to speed up home construction, increase employment and put more money into circulation, the Conservative government authorized the release of the remaining $150,000,000.

Last week Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, which administers the act, said two-thirds of the new amount has been contracted for and that loans then under study would account for most of the remaining $150,000,000.

The conference then began a closed-door meeting with Mr. Fleming's request that its main purpose be to work out some system of priorities for the varied provincial requests.

The finance minister said the federal government will not disagree with any proposal, but his repeated reference to a "necessarily limited" federal purse made it clear the central government will go only part way in meeting all provincial demands.

Mr. Green, declining to spell out the proposal for reduced down payments until the legislation is discussed in the Commons—possibly next week—said the changes have been introduced to help Maritimes residents take advantage of the scheme.

Present down payments work out to $3,200 on a home of $16,000 lending value. CMHA officials said the lending value is a "realistic" appraisal of actual cost and usually coincides, except where builders add "extras" or charge more for superior sites.

Selling Wave
Hits Prices
At New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A wave of heavy selling pounded prices to their lows of the session at the close today following news that President Eisenhower had suffered a clotting of "small branch of the middle cerebral artery."

The ticker tape was six minutes behind transactions as sellers rushed to unload.

Earlier, there was a slight recovery following a statement by a White House visitor, George Allen. Prior to that the tape was late for 21 minutes in a spell of nervous selling as the medical report was awaited.

Tickers ran nearly 10 minutes behind actual floor transactions, recalling the wide heart attack break of Sept. 26, 1955, and the lighter drop in the attack of June 8, 1956.

But time was in favor of the market today. There was actually only 20 minutes after the news was announced from the White House until the final closing—gone ended trading at 3:30 p.m.

Saudi Arabian Army on Alert

Would Aid Jordan Repel Israelis; Hammarskjold to Leave U.S. Friday

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—A Saudi Arabian official said today that troops of his country stationed in Jordan are on an emergency footing to help their hosts repel any Israeli attack.

Sheikh Ahmad Kuheimi, Saudi charge d'affairs here, announced that leaves for all Saudi officers and men stationed in Jordan have been cancelled.

He said he delivered a message Monday from King Saud to King Hussein assuring the Jordanian monarch of help if Israel should attack.

A state of emergency was declared for Jordan's armed forces after Jordan blocked an Israeli motor convoy headed for Mount Scopus in the demilitarized area near Jerusalem last week. Jordan said gasoline carried by the convoy was "war material" but Israel denied this.

Foreign Minister Samir Rifa'i told a press conference that Jordan's decision not to co-operate with Col. Byron Leary, acting United Nations truce chief, does not mean a boycott of other

B.C. Doctor Pleads Guilty To Tax Charge

VANCOUVER (CP)—A medical doctor pleaded guilty in police court Monday to 12 charges of income tax evasion which involve concealing $60,258 in gross fees in the last 12 years.

Dr. Gustav Schilder, an internal medicine specialist, was remanded a week for sentence by Magistrate Oscar Orr, who remarked that as the offences dated back to the time of the Second World War they "were in the nature of treason."

The maximum penalty is $10,000 fine or two years in prison.

Prosecutor William S. Young said the accused used several systems to suppress income returns, including a code system of dashes, underlines and German words so he could keep track of actual charges made.

GUERRILLAS TAKE CAPITAL

RABAT, Morocco (Reuters)—Moroccan guerrillas have captured the capital of Ifni, a Spanish enclave in southern Morocco where fighting has been going on since the weekend, the government newspaper Al Alam said here today.

The newspaper is the main source in Rabat for news of clashes in Ifni on the Atlantic coast of North Africa between Spanish troops and Moroccans of the self-styled "army of liberation."

Power From Sea Britain's Future Aim

HARWELL, England (CP)—Within the next generation Britain may be able to derive electrical power from sea water, members of Canada's trade mission were told today.

Opening their month-long tour of British industrial centres, members of the mission caught a glimpse of the vast developments being undertaken at this atomic research station where scientists are searching for sources of cheap power to replace the country's shrinking coal supply.

During their two-hour visit, the Canadians were shown various types of reactors and other experimental machinery along with an array of valuable isotopes which bring her an income of some $1,500,000 a year.

Britain, France End Tunisia Arms Issue

PARIS (Reuters)—The British and French prime ministers yesterday decided "to make arrangements" designed to avoid fresh quarrels over British-American arms shipments to Tunisia.

The decision was announced in a communiqué winding up two days of talks between Britain's Harold Macmillan and France's Felix Gaillard.

A British delegation spokesman said this does not mean Britain will send no more arms to Tunisia. He said the decision means Britain will consult France if Tunisia asks for more arms.

Both British and French officials said full identity on all aspects of foreign policy had not been brought about but "both sides now know each other's point of view thoroughly."

Both prime ministers appeared cheerful after the discussions. Macmillan told reporters the talks were "a success."

The communiqué said:

"In a spirit of solidarity between their two countries both prime ministers expressed their conviction that France should continue to discharge her special responsibilities in North Africa where she had traditionally a leading position and where she makes an indispensable contribution to the common defence of the free world.

"On the matter of arms for those which have recently arisen. Consultations on this subject between the two governments are continuing."

Antarctic Crevasses Problem for Hillary

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (Reuters)—Sir Edmund Hillary and his New Zealand tractor party today reached a new Antarctic depot on their way to meet another group attempting the first land crossing of the treacherous "white" continent by land.

The trans-Antarctic group, bound for Scott base via the pole, is scheduled to meet Hillary's party near Mount Albert Markham on the New Zealand side of the pole.

In his message today, Hillary said his group "had an unpleasant time in a crevassed area yesterday but extricated all vehicles safely and found an excellent route farther west."

Ripple Rock Blast Used to Test Earth

If you are planning to sail through Seymour Narrows in March or April of next year, check with authorities first. Otherwise you might find 1,500 tons of dynamite going off underneat your boat.

This is the size of the charge which will smash the infamous Ripple Rock, geophysicist William Milne of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory told gyro members at a Monday luncheon meeting.

At the same time of the explosion seismographs, tended by B.C. scientists, will be set up in an easterly direction from the rock through Lillooet, Salmon Arm, Glacier, Field and Lake Louise.

U.S. scientists are expected to utilize the "elastic wave effect" of the man-made "earthquake" by setting up their own seismographs south of the border in a north-south line.

Object of the recordings will be to determine more accurately the depth of the earth's crust in this area and to verify recent theories regarding its properities.

Scientists believe the earth is made up of a central core with perhaps an inner core, a mantle outside this and finally the very thin coating of the crust itself.

When earthquakes occur the sound waves produced race through the rock and are reflected and refracted from faults, bends and change in composition in much the same way as light through glass and water.

By accurately measuring these waves, in time and distance, scientists can calculate not only depth but types of rocks and temperatures, Mr. Milne said.

Although the blast is expected to be felt in the form of waves as far east as the Saskatchewan border, this will only be possible on delicate instruments and no ill effects should be experienced in the immediate area.

RE-ELECTION TO BE SOUGHT BY PASSMORE

COUN. Leslie Passmore of Saanich Monday night announced he will run for re-election in municipal elections Dec. 12.

Veteran of 17 years on council, bound for Scott base via the pole, is scheduled to meet Hillary's party near Mount Albert Markham on the New Zealand side of the pole.

In his message today, Hillary said his group "had an unpleasant time in a crevassed area yesterday but extricated all vehicles safely and found an excellent route farther west."

OUTLOOK

morning. He remained quiet in bed until 7:15 a.m., at which time he was again examined by his attending physicians. The physical and neurological examination again showed no abnormalities other than a slight impairment in speech.

"This had improved perceptibly during the intervening hours.

"This confirms our original diagnosis that the president suffered an occlusion of a small branch of the middle cerebral artery on the left side. It cannot be determined at this time whether the condition present is one of a small clot or a vascular spasm. All findings indicate no brain hemorrhage.

"It is possible that the chill the president experienced yesterday noon was a contributing factor in this instance.

"Although the present condition is mild and is expected to be transitory in nature, it will require a period of rest and substantially decreased activity estimated at several weeks. Hospitalization will not be necessary.

Dr. Francis M. Forster, professor of neurology and dean of Georgetown University medical school in Washington, D.C., and Dr. Houston H. Merritt, professor of neurology of Columbia University medical school in New York City, have been requested to see the president in consultation later today.

"In the absence of other findings, the patient's age, and the improvement that he has shown in the relatively short period since the onset of his illness, the outlook for complete recovery within a reasonable period of time is excellent."

Zhukov Ouster Warns Party Controls Army

MOSCOW (AP)—One month after Russia's foremost military officer was sacked for resisting Communist party controls, Nikita Khrushchev has warned the country's lowest new officers not to buck the party.

The Communist party secretary spoke at a reception Monday night for the graduating class of Moscow's military academies, reviving a custom that lapsed with Stalin's death in 1953.

Like Stalin, Khrushchev used the ceremony to remind the young officers that the party is supreme in Russia. He also called upon them to increase vigilance against "the threat of war whipped up by imperialists."

Khrushchev said Marshal Gori Zhukov was ousted as defense minister Oct. 26 for opposing control of the army. "The decision of the Central Committee to expel Zhukov aimed at a fundamental improvement of party political work in the armed forces," Khrushchev said.

The party was "leader, organizer, educator and main source of power" of the Soviet armed forces.

"The fulfillment of our great tasks are possible only through friendly co-operation of the commanders and political officers in the improvement of military personnel. The strength of the Soviet armed forces lies in the fact that their leader and organizer is in the Communist party."
